Metzger lives at 411 Gilpin rd., Penn Valley, and served as a director since the bank was reorganized in 1934. Prior to that he was president of the Narberth National Bank whose reorganization was an aftermath of the depression.

On Tuesday of this week, under the auspices of the American Legion Auxiliary, an attractive package of useful gifts was delivered to each of the Narberth men who left Wednesday morning for War Service.

Accompanying the package was a letter expressing appropriate sentiments to men who were about to enroll in the Colors and in addition there was a card which would result in each of the new soldiers receiving a six-months' subscription to OUR TOWN.

This procedure will be observed with all of the men who leave Narberth henceforth for the camps and the funds for its continuance have already been assured, without the need of a community collection.

Dorizas Predicts Long, Hard War

Noted Lecturer Spoke At Annual Banquet Of Business Council

Despite their heavy losses in Russia, the Germans are still extremely strong, Dr. Michail Dorizas, world traveler and geographer, warned members and guests of the Narberth Business Council at its annual banquet Monday night.

The banquet, held at the Green Room of the Arcadia Restaurant, Narberth, was presided over by Walter G. Case, president of the Council. John J. Cabrey acted as toastmaster.

"We are fighting for our skins," said Dr. Dorizas. "Germany and Japan—and the Russians—were ready for war. China was used as a blind to prepare the Japs to fight us. Stalin saw it coming and began to get ready when Hitler took Warsaw."

"We're going to bomb hell out of Germany, the British by night and the Americans by day and 'we may be able to lick German in a year,' Dr. Dorizas predicted, "but it will take two and a half years to beat (Continued on Page Three)

Those in charge point out, however, that should individual citizens desire to make a contribution in order that they might be more personally linked with the appreciative gesture, such donations will be received by Carl B. Metzger, Jr., at the Bank.

There were no funds remaining from the collection which was made for the Christmas boxes, and as a matter of fact the Committee spent several hundred dollars more than it received. Part of the extra expenditures included the cost of the gifts which are now available for the 1943 additions to Narberth's contingent in the Armed Forces.

Thus definite arrangements have at last been made so that our (Continued on Page Two)

Packages Arrive in "Perfect Condition" At All Points

Extreme Precautions Adopted By Committee Result In Unusual Delivery Records — Service Men Report Narberth's Prestige Is "Tops" at Camps and War-Fronts

The letter from Father Hamilton published in last week's issue stated that his Christmas box arrived in the Southern Pacific, after a journey of nearly two months in "perfect condition." That fact is also set forth in numerous other communications from the Service men and the record at large proves that not a single carton arrived at any destination in a broken or damaged condition.

For this excellent achievement, much credit is due the women who so painstakingly prepared the packages. Each article in them was carefully wrapped, to preclude shuffling in transit, and the final protection was a signode steel strap which was calculated to assure safe delivery at any corner of the earth.

That these precautions were well worth while is attested by the reports from the Camps, including those which are printed this week:

Your wonderful Christmas box was certainly appreciated way down here in Texas. It made me feel just as if I were at home, as you sent so many useful presents. Those in charge of selecting the gifts certainly deserve a great deal of credit for their excellent choice. When I opened the carton Christmas morning, all the other boys in my tent asked, "Where is Narberth? They used to treat you swell." or, "I think I'll move there after the war." We all know how much trouble all of you at home went to make our Christmas merrier and I am sure every Narberth boy is proud of the fact that he is from Narberth. Thanks again.

MATT WILLIAMS.
I greatly appreciated your wonderful gifts. Each and every one will prove useful to me. Please accept my most grateful thanks.

JOHN A. COONEY

I want to thank you for all the grand gifts I got in your surprise Christmas package. These gifts will really come in handy. I can assure you, and will get plenty of use. The person who made the selection surely knows the Army, for each article fits a definite purpose. I only hope the home-town people aren't freezing, for this Mississippi weather is just what the doctor ordered. Thanks again.

J. R. PARKE

Your Christmas gift arrived New Year's Day. Each package in itself was a perfect gift and altogether it was — well, just "tops." I was proud to tell my shipmates Narberth sent it to me. Thanks a million.

I. F. ANDERSON

Received your grand Christmas box the other day. It was in perfect condition due to the fine way it was wrapped and packed. The articles were well chosen and I will make good use of all of them. Many thanks to the generous people of Narberth for their wonderful kindness.

GEORGE B. KNAPP, JR.

Please accept my sincere thanks for your kind remembrance and best wishes. Such things do indeed bring us closer to home and to all our thoughtful friends.

H. CHARLES

I want to express my deep appreciation along with the other Narberth men in the Service for your most excellent Christmas gifts. The enormous pleasure I experienced in receiving them must have no doubt been magnified a thousand-fold for the fact that they arrived in perfect condition. Nobody is more encouraged by recognition from home than they are. Thank you gratefully for your inspiring thoughtfulness.

D. J. WISLER

It's hard to find a way of expressing proper appreciation for what the Old Home Town has done, but in the lack of more expressive words I'd like to say, most sincerely, thanks so much for the time, the thought, the work and the money that went together in that wonderful parcel of gifts—thanks to everybody and I know that includes a lot of people.

If Narberth only had more room I am sure we would have many new citizens when this war is over, because that Christmas Box really made a big impression on all the boys here at Camp. About a dozen of them sat around my bunk as I opened the various packages, our of fear, another, and it didn't take long to get the great news in general circulation. The inscriptions were a swell idea—they made all the good things even better.

Thanks again.

—C. DeHaven Grace

It was two days before Christmas when I received the carton of presents and as I started to unwrap the packages (which I did pronto on arrival there were only two, one. When I had finished I had the makings of a platoon on my bunk. Not one gift failed to bring real and enthusiastic praise from the entire crew. They all offered to "accept" anything I was giving away. I had to come across with a few things—It's the law of our barracks. Besides, who could be stingy when confronted by such generosity as Narberth had accorded?

Thank you sincerely for all these swell gifts, and the spirit they convey. Also a special "Hi! There" to Bob Squier for his letter. It was well worth the War Bond he won with it.

—Dick Cabrey..

I want to thank all who made it possible for us boys to receive such a swell Christmas gift. This thoughtfulness makes me realize more than ever how lucky I am to live in such a cooperative community. I don't know of any other group of fellows who were lucky enough to receive such assortment of appropriate gifts. I'm especially thankful for the picture of the flag-raising ceremony. Looking at this picture makes me think of Narberth as I like to remember it—a cozy, quiet little town, with a good class of people who are always willing to put an idea into action if it will help someone and is for the good of the community.

Court Says Football Pool Was 'Rotten Stinking Game'

The Lower Merion High School football pool was labeled a "rotten stinking game run by racketeers" by Judge Harold G. Knight last Friday.

In discharging three high school students for participating in the pool Judge Knight drew a line between "friendly" pools conducted by such organizations as the Lower Merion police and "business" pools in which there is a big take.

The boys he discharged after a hearing in Juvenile Court were William T. Campbell, Thomas J. McCaughey and Richard B. Slater. The case of Nicholas D'Amora, 21, has yet to be heard by the Montgomery Grand Jury where he is charged with abetting a lottery.

In expressing his opinion regarding gambling in general and lottery, in particular, Judge Knight said

O. K. Car Use To Attend Meetings

Police Chief Told Rotarians It Would Be All Right

Superintendent of Police Samuel Gearhart of Lower Merion Township has given members of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club the O.K. to use their automobiles to drive to their weekly luncheon meetings.

This was announced by L. Stanley King, when the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth club met this Tuesday noon at the Overbrook Golf Club. King was chairman of the program and the president, Dr. Munro Purse, presided.

Prior to the meeting King sent postal cards to the members on which he explained that he had investigated the matter. He said that he had been in touch with the police chief and that Gearhart had checked with the OPA.

Members of the Club, who have to drive several miles from their places of business to reach the Overbrook club at City Line and Lancaster av., must travel by private automobiles or use buses. Many of them are conserving gasoline and tires by pooling their cars and traveling together.

The speaker was Andrew S. Vaughan, Pottstown, a former district governor of Rotary. He spoke on fellowship.

Court Says Football Pool Was 'Rotten Stinking Game'

The Lower Merion High School football pool was labeled a "rotten stinking game run by racketeers" by Judge Harold G. Knight last Friday.

In discharging three high school students for participating in the pool Judge Knight drew a line between "friendly" pools conducted by such organizations as the Lower Merion police and "business" pools in which there is a big take.

The boys he discharged after a hearing in Juvenile Court were William T. Campbell, Thomas J. McCaughey and Richard B. Slater. The case of Nicholas D'Amora, 21, has yet to be heard by the Montgomery Grand Jury where he is charged with abetting a lottery.

In expressing his opinion regarding gambling in general and lottery, in particular, Judge Knight said

Most of the additional money in next year's budget will be absorbed by salary increases which were granted last year to meet increased costs of living.

The Council also doubled its appropriation for civilian defense purposes this year. Last year councilmen set aside $1000 and this year raised it to $2000. In addition, the Borough has another $1200 which was raised by public subscription for defense purposes.

In estimated receipts the largest increase is in the cash balance that was left over from 1942. In 1942 the cash balance was only $8,537.52 to start the year and this year it is $14,304.73. Most of this is from money that the Council had set aside in 1942 as its share of paying for roads and streets improved by county-aid.

The drop in estimated receipts from miscellaneous sources is due to the lack of any new construction, installation of oil heaters and sewer connections. These operations bring in fees which have been reduced to a minimum during war time.

The tax rate fixed by the Council is the same as last year. The millage is divided as follows: 11 mills for general borough use; three mills for fire protection; two and two-fifths mills to pay the electoral debt service and three-fifths of a mill to pay councilmanic debt service and sinking fund levies.

WHERE GOOD GAMBLING ENDS AND BAD GAMBLING STARTS

Judge Knight in his comments regarding the football pool, which has been running among Lower Merion High School students, took the bull by the horns in attempting to define good and bad gambling as well as good and bad lotteries.

We are all for the Court's courageous, judicial stand. But we want to warn the Court that the bull, whose horns he grabbed, is a tough one and he wants to be prepared to throw him.

What the Judge said about lotteries and gambling was a human, he-man's interpretation of the law. But Judge Knight is ruling in a case in which some very fine boys are involved — boys who are far from incorrigible and boys whose character the Court has no intention of besmirching.

We wish the Court could have gone a little further. We wish he could have attempted an interpretation of gambling and lottery in terms of what he sincerely feels. We wish he could have told us just where good gambling ends and bad gambling starts — what is the element that creeps into drawings for chance that makes it an illegal lottery. Also, we would like to hear the Court say something about pin ball machines, about the money gambling devices and other contraptions which are being used openly in some sections of Montgomery County. We would like to hear what the Court thinks about drawings conducted to raise money for worthy causes, for churches, for fire companies and to sell war bonds.

Doesn't Judge Knight see any connection between the "friendly" little football pool conducted in the Lower Merion police station; the gambling machine devices permitted in fraternal homes; the drawing for lucky numbers at firemen's benefits; the commercialized football pool which was conducted among Lower Merion students or the sociable little game which men folks play in their homes? We do.

Or, let us recall the days of prohibition. When the great drought of that period was on, did Judge Knight see any relation between the well-stocked cellars which the leisure class continued to keep well-stocked; between the highballs which many respectable people continued to serve in their homes; between the bar which fraternal club houses continued to operate; and the bootlegger business and other types of violations which continued to flourish? We did.

For these reasons and for the fact that he is head of Juvenile Court, where his influence is felt by thousands of boys and girls, we hope Judge Knight will amplify his opinions, especially if he is the sitting judge when Nicholas D'Amora, arrested for abetting the Lower Merion High School football pool, goes to trial... if he does.

Judge Knight speaks with great courage and we hope that some day he will have an opportunity to frame a lottery and gambling law more in keeping with human nature as we find it.

For this reason, Judge Knight, we are with you and against those who smugly say that your judicial attention to this serious matter is making a "tempest in a teapot."

You have opened up an enlightening barrage. Stick to your guns.

Mid-Day Shopping
Urged by Red Arrow

In an urgent appeal to shoppers and to those making trips to town for unessential purposes, the Philadelphia Suburban Transportation Company, operators of Red Arrow Lines, are seeking the public's cooperation in an effort to clear transportation facilities for workers at rush hours.

The ban on the use of private cars for all but the most essential driving, coupled with the influx of population and the company's inability to add new buses and rail cars because of priorities, has put a tremendous strain on public transportation facilities in the Philadelphia-suburban area.

Shoppers are being urged to ride to shopping centres between the hours of 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. or after 7 p. m. These are the "off-peak" hours when the press of workers travelling to their jobs slackens. Shoppers will also be serving their own best interests by riding during such hours, the company points out, since the mid-day and evening hours offer the best chance for travelling in a reasonable degree of comfort.

Court Says

gambling," said the jurist, "and it is difficult for the average individual to understand how the law looks at it. We all know that many persons indulge in gambling. I can have a crowd of friends come to my house and play poker with the shades up from dark until dawn (providing there is not a blackout) and police and no one can do anything about it as long as I do not operate a gambling establishment; as long as I don't set up a lottery. Many groups of people — and there are some right here in the Court House — who will organize a pool on a World Series or football game. I even have heard that they've done that in the Lower Merion Police Station. That is not prohibited by law. There is nothing unlawful about that. If a person wants to gamble that is their right and prerogative."

NATURALLY we are doing all we can to accommodate everyone, but there are certain things that we should like to point out to our patrons.

In the first place, we are carrying large numbers of workers during the morning and evening hours. These quickly fill up seats and the aisles, too.

Therefore, if you are going shopping — or into town for any other purpose — it will be more comfortable for you to do your traveling over our lines between the hours of 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. Then more seats are available, there is more room for your packages.

In these wartime days, when it is not possible for us to add new cars and buses, cooperation is the best means of assuring smooth and comfortable service for you. Not only shall we appreciate your help, but on all occasions we think you will find it to your advantage when you travel over our lines. Thank you.

The Narberth Business Council

WEEKLY NEWS LETTER TO YOU WHO LIVE AND BUY IN NARBERTH

Although the subject is familiar to some the Narberth Business Council is still receiving queries about the proposed point-system of rationing. Most of these questions concern when it will start, to what foods it will apply and what it will mean to our average consumer here in Narberth.

From information obtained by the Business Council from the Philadelphia OPA office the rationing on canned foods and vegetables will begin as early as possible in February.

The point values will be the same in every store in Narberth or nearby communities, regardless of the price charged. For example, the housewife buying No. 2 can of tomatoes will have to surrender the same number of stamps for the same number of points, whether the price is 12c or 15c or whether the can is grade A, B or C.

Everyone applying for War Ration Book No. 2 must sign a "consumer declaration" form stating exactly the stocks on hand. Stamps covering these excess stocks will be removed from the books and thus surplus stocks will be used up first. Heavy Federal penalties will be imposed for making a false declaration. The exception is that a housewife does not have to declare fruits and vegetables that have been canned at home.

Then we have been asked if a housewife can use the ration book of all members of her family when she goes shopping. The answer is that the housewife may take along each ration book issued to members of her household. This will work out the same as it does now in buying sugar and coffee with War Ration Book No. 1.

In all these rationing regulations, that are necessary to win the war, we are facing new responsibilities. It is part of the continuous battle that we are being called to wage on the home front.

P. S.—An individual, a business council, a town grows, through constructive suggestions. You may have one that would point the way to a better future. If so, address it to the Narberth Business Council, Narberth, Pa. It will be confidentially treated and carefully considered. N. B. C.

War And The Necessary Drug Business

Drug shipments are coming through and prescription departments are able to function at their normal level, according to J. Paul Shea, owner of Shea's drug store at Haverford av. and Station Circle. Shea's announcement dispels disquieting rumors that some drug stores would be unable to obtain much needed medical supplies.

"Naturally," says the drug store owner, "there have been some curtailments in our business but they have not affected supplies that are vital to the health and welfare of our customers."

He points out that drug stores like many other stores are unable to stock electrical appliances. Earlier, he explains, the quinine stocks in all drug stores were frozen by a government order. Each soldier in tropical climates, he says, needs three ounces of quinine a year to combat malaria and other similar diseases. He reports that after the freezing order the quinine stock was shipped to a central pooling point.

Another curtailment, Mr. Shea states, has been applied at the manufacturing source in the preparation of cosmetics. This curtailment was in cutting the use of alcohol in cosmetics to 50 percent of its former standard.

LIFE OFTEN DEPENDS ON ACCURACY

In sickness the patient's life oftentimes depends on the freshness of the drugs and in the compounding of your doctor's prescriptions.

Our prescription department is the lifeblood of our business and the pride of our organization.

Our prescription department is NOT subordinated to the sale of various and sundry articles usually found in drug stores. Pharmacy is our profession—so bring your prescription here with complete assurance that it will be "properly" filled. Choose your pharmacist as carefully as you would your doctor.
